DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

1. Genesis

After the formation of NABARD on July 12, 1982, the need for robust IT Infrastructure and Services was acknowledged by the formation of Computer Services Division (CSD). Formerly a part of the Economic Analysis and Publication Division, it was renamed as Department of Information Technology (DIT) in 1998, to devote exclusive attention to IT-related activities of the Bank and effectively channelise Information, Communication and Technology (ICT).

2. Objectives

The modernisation of IT systems, networks, and platforms is imperative for the organisation to remain relevant and develop effective and efficient solutions. The key objective of the department is to provide such robust, secure and agile IT systems and services to the bank in consonance with the latest available technology.

3. Core functions of the Department

Design IT and IT-related policies for the Bank

The department is responsible for the formulation of IT policies relating to procurement of hardware and software within the bank, to ensure that the bank's IT operations are in sync with IT Act, 2000/RBI/ NCIIP/ Cert-In guidelines. Other policies relating to the IT domain viz. Information Security Policy, Email Policy, Cyber Security Policy etc. are also articulated by DIT.

Provision, augmentation and replacement of IT infrastructure on regular basis

The department oversees the installation and maintenance of computer network systems within the bank. All server-level hardware and software are maintained by DIT whereby ensuring round-the-clock availability to all users of banks.

Anchor implementation and maintenance of Enterprise level Applications

DIT oversees the implementation and maintenance of Enterprise-level Applications that serve the business, development and administrative needs of the bank by engaging best-in-class technology service providers. The bank also has a corporate intranet developed in-house.

Improve secure mobile and remote access to appropriate Department resources

Mobility and secure remote access to systems has gained momentum in recent times. Moving towards a paperless organisation and adoption of cloud-based collaborative tools are some important steps in this direction
